Always pay through one of the places above.

HOW LONG DO I PAY SUPPORT?

Until your child is emancipated.

This may happen when:

- Your child turns 19
- After age 19 if your child is disabled
- The Court decides that your child is emancipated for any reason

WHAT IF THINGS CHANGE?

- One parent's income goes up or down
- My child leaves home
- I am sent to prison
- My child is removed by CPS (Child Protection)
- I get put on disability
- My child moves in with me
- The other parent and I are living together
- Something else that may make a big difference in the child support

Then you may want to file a PETITION TO MODIFY

- Get a Petition to Modify form from the IV-D Court
- Talk to an attorney
- Look for online forms at:
www.in.gov/judiciary/selfservice/forms.html

Your support order does not change unless you file the Petition and the judge grants it.

WHAT IF I DON'T GET MY VISITATION?

Child Support and Visitation are two separate issues. Just because you are not getting visitation does not mean you do not have to pay child support. Talk to an attorney regarding visitation or custody issues, but keep paying your child support!
